WASHINGTON, April 26.—The House adjourned today out of respect for Representative Charles A. Nichols, Michigan, who died last night.

PIERCE ARROW

"The First Fifty"

TRUCK NO. 50.
More than 160,000 miles of operation in the service of the Mr. Whitney Power and Electric Company is to the credit of truck No. 50. Although this unit has been compelled to negotiate rough mountain roads, hauling materials to the Sequoia National Forest, it has not given a day without let up. Yet the first complete overhaul was not given it until March 1918.

On December 23, 1918, this truck hauled a 40-ft. 2-in. boiler weighing six and one-half tons. The load was so long that it lifted the front wheels of the truck from the ground, and back of sand ballast had to be piled on the bumper and hood to keep it from rolling over.

Morse Subpoenaed in Petersen Case Suit

F. F. Morse, commissioner of public health and safety, this morning was served with a subpoena to appear before Superior Judge James G. Quinn on Friday in the suit filed against him Saturday by Attorney Burton J. Wymann in behalf of Robert D. Huntington, a San Francisco business man and former captain in the United States army.

Alcatraz Block Is Sold for $125,000

One of the largest cash realty transactions recorded locally in a long time was closed last week when the Alcatraz block in Berkeley, fronting on Alcatraz avenue, Grove and Adelphi streets, was transferred to a group of Eastbay business men for $125,000.

SPECIAL VENUE CALLED
With all women jurors on the panel excused because of the nature of the case, the trial of Dr. Holmes F. Troutman, charged with a statutory offense, was continued by Judge James G. Quinn until tomorrow morning because twelve jurors could not be obtained. A special venire will be called.

News of the Churches

BERKELEY April 26.—Dr. E. P. Bennett, pastor of Trinity M. L. Church, accompanied by Mrs. Bennett, left today for Des Moines to attend the annual general conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, which will be in session the entire month of May. Bishop Adna W. Leonard of Berkeley, head of the Pacific district of the church, left for the meeting several days ago. While in John Stevens of Oakland will go later this week.

A feature of the conference this year will be the seating of German delegates for the first time in eight years. The meeting of the denomination being held in the scope of paramount importance at the conference will be the question of the union of the Methodist Episcopal and Methodist Episcopal South churches, divided since before the Civil war. While western churches are known to favor the union, the eastern churches are known to oppose it. The union of the two churches would result in the Methodist Episcopal Church having its strongest following in the east with a large number of resolutions, among them one urging the reassignment of Bishop Leonard to his district for another four years.

NO TEMPTATION TO CONVEYING SOUL
Man became a living soul" was the text around which Rev. John Stephens, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, built his sermon last night on the theme "The Conquest of the Soul." Dr. Stephens declared that there is no temptation that the soul can not overcome, and that the only question to be asked is, "Is it well with the soul?" The pastor then gave illustrations of men such as Caesar, Napoleon and the apostle Paul, who had small statues of the soul in their hands, and who, through their own efforts, had overcome all limitations and disabilities, shining forth triumphantly in the world.

MINISTER WARNS OF GIRL DANGER

Rev. Frank M. Sisley preached last night at the First Presbyterian Church on "Saving the Girls of Oakland." He said in part: "The biggest danger for the girl is the moral radicalism of today and the encouragement of destructive tendencies. It is making the ruling idea of life the big fun ideal. It is a loose, boomerang spirit that has gripped many of the girls, as well as young men. It is the passion to do the appalling thing and to make the biggest venture. Of course the great majority of girls of today are resisting this strain, but that moral radicalism is present, is everywhere in evidence. The result of this moral radicalism is the breaking down of the moral fiber of young people who yield and the loss of soul."

A MISTAKE OF MOSES
Rev. Edward C. Phillips, pastor of Centennial Presbyterian Church, chose as his morning topic yesterday, "A Mistake of Moses" (Ex. 2:11-13), saving among other remarks "Col. Ingersoll used to lecture on the mistake of Moses. There is no denying that the old prophet made some of them. One of the greatest was when he let his temper get the better of his prudence, and killed a man. But God in His sovereign grace overruled that mistake to His own glory and to the good of humanity. So He can do with yours and mine."

PATRIOTIC SERMON AT PLYMOUTH CHURCH
I believe in America for Americans! I believe in a solution for Americans in every part of the world! I believe in America for the world and the world for America! I believe in the great mission of the church to aid humanity. Thus spoke Rev. Charles L. Kloss, pastor of Plymouth Congregational Church, in a sermon yesterday morning. The preacher declared that the church should be a center of light and love, a place where the world can find a better way of life. He urged the church to be a force for the betterment of the world, and to put human life before property.

Outing Enjoyed by Convalescent Heroes

One hundred convalescent veterans of the battlefields of France were the guests yesterday of the Oakland and Alameda chapters of the United Spanish War Veterans, which arranged for the trip. In automobiles from the military hospital at Palo Alto to the Point Camp in Diamond Canyon, where the veterans had a picnic and a day of rest, the outing was a most enjoyable one. The veterans were served by the Girls Division of the community service.

Prohibition Turns Prison Into Hotel

OTTAWA, Ill., April 26.—Sheriff C. S. Ayers announced today that the Ottawa Jail will be turned into a hotel because prohibition has emptied it of prisoners. Electric washers made of copper, like the Apet, will last a lifetime, and will do a big washing for 8c. Electric swing washers included. No cylinder paddles to rub and maul the clothes. Not an experiment. Easy terms—after a free trial, $5 puts it in your home. Try one.

Melvin who died in Oakland Saturday, has been planned by the State Supreme Court for Monday, May 3, according to an announcement from the court today. Judge Melvin's successor, if he desires to complete the unexpired term, will have to run for election in November, despite the fact that the term does not expire until 1922. Unfaithfulness Laid to Wife in Answer

Replying to the divorce suit of Mrs. Marjorie Moffat filed recently, Albert J. Moffat today filed a cross-complaint in which he accused his wife of unfaithfulness. Moffat declares his wife's charge that he "falsely and maliciously denied that he was her child's father is untrue but that he made the charge in good faith and affirms that it is true. According to the complaint, the couple were married on May 16, 1918, and have a daughter five months old.

A Business as an Inheritance
Men who devote their lives to creating a successful business, neglecting meanwhile to create also an estate separate therefrom, often go out of the world leaving an inheritance of doubtful value to their families.
There may not be heirs qualified to succeed in the management; without its founder or moving spirit the success of the business may wane; successors in the control may not prove capable; obligations may exist which will strain the finances. If desirable for the estate to sell out, it may be difficult to find a buyer.
A "going business," then, does not always prove the best kind of an inheritance.
But an independent estate, such as you may create or enlarge under the "Bank of Italy Trust Plan" can be transmitted to heirs and continued for their benefit indefinitely. It will be as good an asset after your death as while you live.
Investigate this admirable plan. Come in and talk to our Trust Officer about it. Read our Booklet which describes it fully.

CORRECTION COST LOW IN OAKLAND

Wings of the morning!
A good cup of coffee for breakfast—how delightfully fragrant, how rich and smooth to the taste, what a wholesome invigorating effect it has! What a wonderful start for the day's work!

These delights are not in ordinary coffee.

And yet they both cost about the same per cup—there is so much more flavor in good coffee, so many more cups to the pound.

Schilling's is one of the few really good coffees. If you like the way it tastes, it is the coffee for you. If you don't, your grocer pays your money back.

A Schilling & Company
San Francisco

Oakland spends more money for playgrounds and recreation than any city in the State and less money for charities and corrections than do most California cities. One-third, fourth or fifth of its size. These figures, and hundreds of others, are included in the annual report of the financial transactions of the municipalities of the State, as issued by John S. Chambers, State controller.

For charities and corrections the city of Oakland spends $2600 a year. Los Angeles spent $14,657 and San Francisco, $1,564,808. San Diego and Sacramento spent more than $20,000 each and Berkeley, with $12,708 beat Oakland by over three times. Likewise Stockton, Pasadena, Long Beach and Pomona spent more money last year for charities than did the city of Oakland.

That the city is well to the front in playground activities is evidenced by an expenditure of $111,184. For the same purposes Los Angeles spent $104,707 and San Francisco $59,972.

Figures concerning the municipal wharves of the cities possessing them show that the crafts docked at Oakland during the year were 5109 against 959 for Los Angeles, and 733 for San Diego. These, of course, refer only to the municipal wharves in each city. Receipts in Los Angeles, where less than one-fifth of the ships are recorded as docking, were $199,417 against $118,699 for Oakland. The expenses of Los Angeles in this department, the report says, was $106,912, while Oakland spent $24,824 for maintenance and operating costs.

A typographical error in the book gives Oakland's bonds outstanding at $298,185 when that is, in reality, the amount redeemed last year. The outstanding bonds of the city total $7,524,045. This is an amount lower than the year before and is the fourth highest in the state, San Francisco, Los Angeles and San Diego leading.

FIFTEEN ROBBED BY AUTO BANDITS

SAN FRANCISCO, April 26. — Three masked bandits, believed to be members of the gang which has been operating with such boldness, snatched the role of the early day road agents when they halted four cars and lined up fifteen people on the summit of Twin Peaks and relieved them of their valuables.

The bandits were posted at a strategic point on the street and halted the four machines yesterday at the point of a shotgun. Frederick W. Knight, 440 Eddy street, and Mrs. William B. Levings, 145 Merced avenue; Miss Myrtle Short, 394 Sacramento street; and William A. Lavette, 3732 Twentieth street, were the only four of the fifteen victims to report their losses. The men lost small sums of money. Miss Short bid her rings in her slipper and Mrs. Levings saved two diamonds by holding them in her mouth.

Girl Sits With Judge During Custody Quiz

After a long talk with 8-year-old Doris Maxine Sullivan during which she sat on the bench of the superior court, Judge Jackson of Los Angeles county decided that the little girl might come to Oakland to live with her mother and stepfather for a trial period of three months. At the end of three months, Mrs. Louise Beatrice Sullivan, her mother, must report to Judge Jackson.

Some time ago when Mrs. Sullivan was divorced from her little girl's father, Harry H. Sullivan, Doris was placed in the custody of her grandmother, Mrs. Lena Wood.

MY HEART and MY HUSBAND

by ADELE GARRISON

I felt as if my eyes should be veiled before Alice Holcomb's bare soul as she was inadvertently revealing it in her eyes and words. She was wholly unconscious, for instance, that she who was always so careful to refer to the principal as "Mr. Stockbridge," had just called him "Kenneth," and that with an intonation which betrayed the passionate ardor of her devotion to him.

She was clearly overworked, and I was afraid that the sharp critical eyes of the high school pupils might read and speculate upon her emotion. I must do something to save the situation, and that quickly.

"Look here," I said practically. "You're too upset to teach any more today, and it's too hot to hear recitations—regular act of cruelty to the pupils as well as ourselves. Just let me take assembly duty—all of the classes—I'll let them read or occupy them in some way—and you go to the rest room of the office and get yourself together. You'll have time to get Mr. Stockbridge's routine work out of the way so that you can get out of here when school closes."

A look of relief flashed into her eyes. She was too quick of perception not to see the advantage of my plan, too sensible to waste my time and hers with futile objections.

"You're right about the heat," she said. "And, of course, we have authority to do anything like this in Mr. Stockbridge's absence. He has often done the same thing, even dismissed school in the hottest weather."

She was regarding control of herself. I saw this with a little jubilation, self-congratulation. I turned briskly toward the stairway as I heard the clatter of feet in the lower hall.

"Get away from here at once," I commanded. "I'll take half duty, also. Telephone for my taxi, will you, please? And—let me tell you a secret. I've had many premonitions of impending tragedy, and they generally turned out to be barefaced deceivers. Don't pay any attention to them."

She was in just the semi-hysterical mood to be swayed by whatever mental pabulum was offered her. I saw here face brighten before she hurried away to the seclusion of the teachers' room, and knowing that I had averted an impending breakdown, I saved my conscience for the falsehood I had told her concerning the premonitions which so often had come to me, and so often had been tragically fulfilled.

If I had had any lingering prick of conscience it was dispelled when a few minutes before the close of the school session she came into the assembly hall, poised, alert, with only a strained look in her eyes to show that the horror of suspense had not wholly left her.

"Your taxi will be here in a few minutes," she whispered. "I'll take charge here now. And—I don't know how to thank you—won't try. But I guess you know. Goodbye."

Her grateful eyes, her relieved face remained in my mental vision all the way to the city. I fervently hoped that no happening such as her hysterical fancy pictured would wipe that look from her face in the next few days.

But at my first sight of Lillian, Alice Holcomb, Kenneth and Millie Stockbridge—the whole Bayview environment—faded from my mental vision. My friend's eyes were alight with jubilation over a quest successfully consummated. She gripped my hand with a strength that made me wince. She saw it, relaxed the grip and grinned understandingly.

"You must excuse my vehemence," she drawled. "But I believe I'm almost excited. Here, let's get out of this and I'll tell you about it."

She hurried to the taxi line, took the first one available, waited until we were well away from the crush of traffic around the station—she knows I am nervous in a crowd of autos—before she spoke.

"Well, I've got the lady as safely as if I had her sewed up in a laundry bag," she said at last.

A sudden thought made my heart beat uneasily.

"Are we on our way to her now?" I asked.

Lillian turned shrewd, appraising eyes upon me.

"What's the matter?" she queried.

"I—don't know," I parried.

"Kindly consider the question a part of the text."

the chief charm of this girl was her look of innocence and unworldliness. Never had I known a girl so young and so beautiful.

DOLSEN JUROR IS ILL; CASE HALTS

The illness of W. M. Ward, one of the jurors deliberating on the trial of J. H. Dolson, charged with criminal syndicalism, today prevented the jury from reporting to Judge James C. Quinn in the superior court and the case was passed until tomorrow morning.

Dr. Edward K. Still, private physician for Ward, testified that his patient had a high temperature this morning, that he was in with bronchitis and that his removal to the courtroom or participation in any deliberations would be dangerous. The physician also stated that it was his opinion that the juror would not be sufficiently recovered for two or three days to take any part in deliberations or to be removed.

Judge Quinn instructed Dr. Still to report again tomorrow the condition of the patient, and passed the case until that time.

Dolson refused to stipulate that the case be continued, saying it was a matter for the court to decide. He did stipulate that Mrs. Ward could see her husband for a few minutes in the presence of the bailiff. Judge Quinn instructed Bailiff Al Smith to see that nothing was said during her visit regarding the case.

All indications were that the jury still remained deadlocked on the issue, reports being to the effect that the vote stood 8 to 4 for conviction on some of the counts and 7 to 5 on others. Owing to the condition of Ward he did not take part in any deliberations yesterday, according to the bailiffs.

Mrs. Philip C. Kauffman

Recent portrait of Miss Nancy Lane, daughter of Franklin K. Lane, the former secretary of the interior, who married Philip C. Kauffman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Kauffman, in a brilliant ceremony in Washington. She is shown wearing a gown of ivory brocade, from which the wedding gowns of her mother, grandmother and great-grandmother had been made. Mrs. Woodrow Wilson and her sister, Miss Bertha Bowling, attended the ceremony, which took place in St. John's Church. Other attendants included many members of the cabinet, diplomats and men and women prominent in official society. Mr. and Mrs. Kauffman will go for a trip through the west, spending several weeks automobiling in California and will return to Washington, where they will make their home in the fall. STATE OFFICIALS' CLASH QUICKENS

M. J. Connell, State fish and game commissioner, and Carl Westerfeld, San Francisco, executive officer of the commission, have locked horns and charges back and forth are being made. Commissioner Connell has just forwarded to Governor Stephens his reply to the charge of Westerfeld that he has been illegally depositing state funds in banks of which he was a stockholder or director. Commissioners F. M. Newbert and Edward Bosqui are brought into the controversy in the reply.

Connell asks Governor Stephens to consider many matters which are far less technical. He says Westerfeld and Bosqui are inclined to think with their stomachs rather than their heads. He cites instances of their visits to Santa Paula and Yosemite. After being banqueted by the residents, he says, they promised to build fish hatcheries, which they never intended to build, bringing the commission into discredit.

After reading Connell's reply, Westerfeld said that Connell in general was not telling the truth. "He intimates that I knew about the illegal use of state funds, but said nothing about it until recently," said Westerfeld.

"The matter of our being feasted in the Yosemite and at Santa Paula is ridiculous. A number of the residents requested us to come look over a hatchery site at Santa Paula. We were going south anyway, so while we were there looking the site over we were invited to attend a barbecue."

Nevada Governor's Flight Postponed

Strike conditions in the Tonopah district prevented Governor Emmett Boyle of Nevada from flying to Oakland in a giant hydroplane.

Arrangements had been made by Mayor John L. Davis to receive Governor Boyle at 11 o'clock at Durant field and a luncheon was to have followed at the Hotel Oakland. The plane was expected to start from Reno at 8 o'clock in the morning. A telegram was received from Governor Boyle by the Mayor, stating that the Nevada chief official had been prevented from leaving by the necessity of receiving a committee on the strike situation.

Four Women Auto Victims; Death of One Is Expected

Mrs. Austrie Nelson, of Berkeley, one of a group of religious workers who were run down by an automobile driven by James Walker, 221 Ellsworth street, San Francisco, on Mission street yesterday afternoon, is not expected to recover. Three other women are badly injured.

According to witnesses the machine turned from Mission street west along the Embarcadero, when it started to zigzag wildly, and ran into a group of religious workers who were singing near the curb. Four women were knocked to the ground and run over and a crowd which had collected to hear the singing was scattered. The police say Walker was driving on the wrong side of the street and Walker's explanation was that he was forced into the crowd when he dodged another automobile.

The others injured were: MRS. M. SPRINGBORN, 40, 150 Franklin street, confusion of the hip. MISS SLABEL SIMONDS, 25, Hampton place; arm broken, body bruised.

MRS. MAX WALKER, 25 Hampton place, hand broken. All were workers for the Peniel Mission. Walker was placed under arrest and later released under $500 bail. Miss Nelson was taken to the Harbor Emergency Hospital, where it is said that she has broken ribs, possible fracture of the skull and a possible puncture of the lung.

CAR TURNS OVER
S. DeBaum and his family narrowly escaped serious injury last night when the car in which they were riding turned over at Third street and East Fourteenth street, after it had collided with a machine driven by F. B. Kuhl, 3476 Maple street. The auto was badly damaged, but the occupants escaped with minor cuts and bruises.

In a collision between automobiles driven by C. F. Spiker, 2315 Ninth avenue, and A. Zimmerman, at Noble street and Seventy-fifth avenue, both cars were partially demolished. The drivers escaped without serious injuries.

Fred R. Skethley, 1734 West Tenth street, was run down by an automobile driven by Fred Carruthers, 1383 Forty-fifth avenue, while riding a motorcycle last night at Seventh and Franklin streets. He was badly bruised and suffered possible internal injuries, according to the report made to the police. He was taken to the Receiving hospital by Carruthers.

Two automobiles and a west-bound Southern Pacific train on the Embarcadero track collided yesterday afternoon at Fifth street and Central avenue, Alameda, with no serious results, due to the ability of Engineer C. A. Handlett to bring his train to a quick stop.

The machines were driven by two Oakland men, H. S. O'Roke and Lloyd Hutton. Both received minor bruises. Their cars were badly scratched.

Conductor E. W. Wanderlich was in charge of the train. SPEEDING IS CHARGED
The pleasure of speeding across the Alameda marsh proved a temptation to Everett Jones, 333 Piedmont avenue, Oakland, who was taken in custody yesterday afternoon at Santa Clara avenue and Webster street, Alameda, after driving 44 miles an hour, according to Police Officer James Ross, who made the arrest. Jones was released and ordered to appear for trial before Judge L. R. Weinmann in Alameda Thursday morning.

Rufus Roy Smith, 2124 Ninth avenue, Oakland, was arrested by the Melrose police yesterday morning on a charge of driving an automobile while intoxicated. The arrest followed a collision with a building at 4060 East Fourteenth street, which caused considerable damage to the property and wrecked the automobile.

Roland Henderson, 18-year-old Alameda high school lad, this morning chose to pay a fine of $5 rather than be denied to drive his automobile.

THIEVES GET COIN, GEMS AND BEER

Burglars entered the home of F. A. Norton last night and looted the house. Norton estimated that $250 worth of property had been taken. Thieves looted the store of John E. Ratto, Sixth and Washington streets, last night. The loss was $10. H. G. Lyle, 1705 Seventh street, reported that marauders had entered his home last night and carted away a case of beer.

The police this morning reported that all of the silverware taken by the burglars who broke into the home of Howard Bray, 5450 Carleton street, had been recovered, but that a large quantity of jewelry was still missing.

SURVEY REPORT
COMES TUESDAY

Report on the results of the survey of the water situation by the water commission of the Eastbay Cities will be filed with the various municipal bodies by tomorrow afternoon.

The report of P. E. Harroun, chief engineer of the commission, containing his recommendation regarding the best available water source for the Eastbay Cities, was surveyed by the commission's engineering committee and reported back to the main body last week.

The commissioners have been compiling their report and completed findings and expect to finish the task tomorrow and file their report with their official bodies. Whether the recommendation favors the Bel River, McCloud river or Hetch Hetchy projects, the three main sources considered, will not be known until tomorrow.

Total outlay of the United States from 1910 to 1919 amounted to $1,500,000,000.

Americanization Teachers
To Organize in California

As a part of the campaign of the newly appointed State Committee of Public Agencies for Americanization, educators, officials interested in the immigration problem and social workers will meet here tomorrow to organize the California Association of Teachers of Americanization. The first task of this body will be to work out a manual to guide the teachers of Americanization subjects and give them a standard method.

The State committee, combining the State Commission of Immigration and Housing, the State Board of Education and the University of California extension division, was named by Governor William D. Stephens to supervise the work of immigrant education in California and thereby carry out the recently enacted compulsory part-time education law for aliens. California is believed to be the first state to unify this work.

Owing to the complex problem which its work presented, the committee has decided not only to promote the education of the aliens under the part-time educational law, but to provide all sorts of citizenship activities, recreational, social, hygienic and educational. All of these features will be carried on through community organizations.

PLAN IS EXPLAINED

The plan as explained by the committee follows:

"California," says the statement, "faces the acute dilemma of having to enforce a compulsory part-time education law for aliens, including night classes in English and citizenship, without any additional appropriation to finance the work. The new law practically requires an extra night shift of teachers, as well as a staff of teachers especially trained for this important and difficult work."

"To solve this difficulty, this committee has embarked upon the task of stimulating community organization, which is a plan whereby all sorts of citizenship activities—recreational, social hygienic, educational—are started in the immigrant districts, and made to center around the school."

"By this plan, part-time night teachers may act as club and recreation leaders as well, and ultimately receive a portion of their income from the self-supporting local clubs; moreover, the added interest taken by the immigrant in the varied activities of the group will greatly increase the attendance of the night classes. Instead of being purely compulsory, such attendance will be voluntary. Americanization of the foreigner will be done through play, health work and other interesting means, as well as through the classes in English and citizenship provided by the law."

COLLIER NAMED DIRECTOR

John Collier, expert in immigration education and who was one of the leaders in the development of New York City's system along the lines outlined above, has been appointed director of community organization by the committee.

The training of teachers and social workers for this work has been going on for some time in Oakland, Fresno, San Francisco and Los Angeles. This work will also be carried on during the summer session of the University of California.

In addition to the training of leaders, the committee says the next important task involves the actual starting of clubs of immigrants and Americans in neighborhoods of mixed foreign and native born population.

"As the result of the work of the past month," says the statement, "such clubs are well under way in two cities, San Francisco and Oakland. That in Oakland is situated in a district which has more than twenty different nationalities. That in San Francisco is also in a district where foreigners predominate. The activities of these clubs—which are only in the beginning stage—will be so varied as to attract the voluntary support of men and women of all ages and races. They will bring foreigners voluntarily to the night classes established by the state law."

"Two more of these organizations will be started between now and August 1, in Fresno and Los Angeles. The connection between these demonstrations and the work of the Americanization institutes is obvious."

The Oakland committee in charge of organization work is presided over by Frederick Faulkner, Americanization chairman of the Chamber of Commerce. Miss Ethel Swain is the secretary.

Wildcat Canyon Is
Hike Trail Followed

The Contra Costa Hills Club hiked to Wildcat canyon yesterday and returned over the crest of Grizzly peak. On Sunday, May 2, the Tamalpais Conservation Club, whose members also belong to the Contra Costa Hills Club, has invited the latter organization to attend the annual meeting of the Tamalpais Conservation Club at its rendezvous on the west shoulder of Mount Tamalpais. On Sunday, May 9, the Contra Costa Hills Club will hike to Orinda park and San Pablo canyon; May 16 and 18, Mount Diablo.

ROAD WILL BUY
NEW EQUIPMENT

Addition of three merchant steamships and an oil tanker, which is to be the largest afloat, to the large purchases of freight and passenger cars made some time ago by the Southern Pacific, has been announced by Julius Kruttschnitt, chairman of the executive committee of the board of directors of the railroad, who is in California.

The company will purchase in all $30,000,000 worth of new equipment. This will include 4700 refrigerator cars, 5000 freight cars, 100 locomotives, 60 passenger cars, and three merchant steamers.

The largest oil tanker will be built by the Moore Shipbuilding Company in Oakland. Delivery of the refrigerator cars will be made in May.

Kruttschnitt expressed the opinion that the labor provisions in the new transportation act will stabilize labor and that a settlement on wage questions will soon be reached. He said that reports from all points on the Southern Pacific indicated large crops this year and that tremendous new acreages of cotton have been planted in the Imperial valley, both in California and Mexico.

With the arrival of Kruttschnitt in San Francisco, heads of the system are in conference today and the center of the yardmen's strike situation is shifted from Los Angeles to this district. The Yardmen's Association in a new statement announced that the men are standing firm and that none will go back to work until the new wages are given. General improvement in conditions is reported by the railroad officials.

For Mills she has obtained from the French government a valuable gift of French books. She is the founder of the French Club, which is now a circle de l'Alliance Francaise. The distinguished woman is one of the few French professors teaching in the United States who are members of the University of France.

Once You Try Mazola You Will Never Go Back to Lard or Butter for Cooking—
or Olive Oil for Dressings

OF interest to every wide-awake housewife are these important facts about the general use, the quality and the unusual economy of Mazola.

Deep Frying

No fat excels Mazola for deep frying. It is far better and a great deal more economical than lard or compounds. Mazola is 100% pure vegetable fat. It contains no moisture. Butter and Lard contain moisture. The same lot of Mazola can be used over and over again—even after frying fish and onions. Merely straining makes it perfectly fresh for use as a shortening. It carries no odors or flavors from the foods cooked in it and does not smoke up your kitchen.

Shortening

The purity and richness of Mazola best demonstrates itself in the fact that $\frac{1}{4}$ to $\frac{1}{2}$ less Mazola is required than that of butter or lard. This means that your cakes and pie crust will not only be light, rich and easily digested but will cost you less to prepare. Being an oil, the tiresome "creaming-in process" is eliminated. Mazola is always ready for instant use.

Salad Dressings

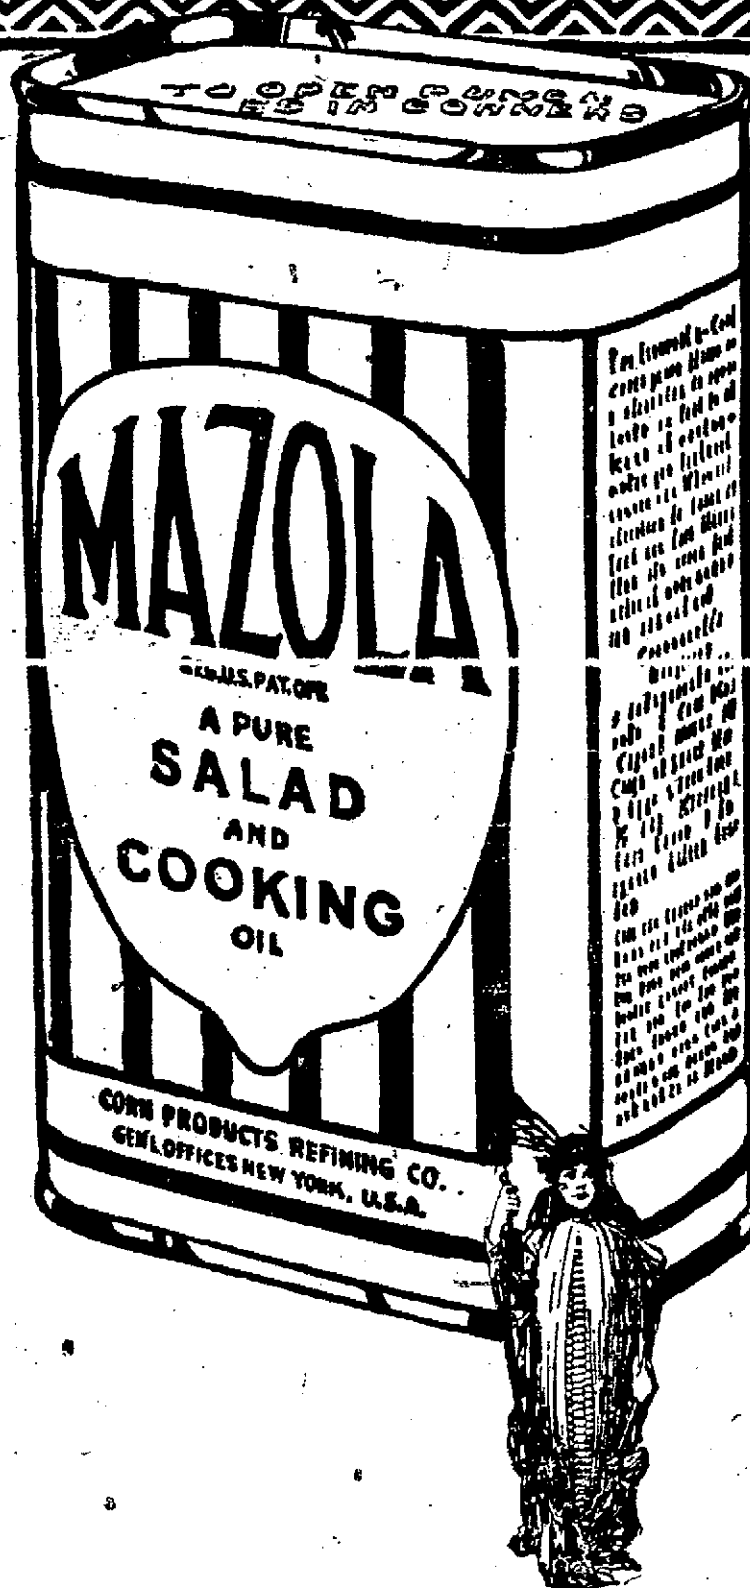

Thousands of Italians, who certainly know olive oil, use Mazola. Not only because it costs about half that of the best olive oil, but because of its richness, quality and purity. For French Dressing, Mazola blends readily—and mayonnaise made with Mazola will keep for weeks without separating.
